

Certificate of Achievement

JIC Award 2014

The Annual JIC Award was established by the Japanese Society of Chemotherapy and The Japanese Association for Infectious Diseases to recognize and commend outstanding papers published in the Journal of Infection and Chemotherapy. In each volume of the journal, one article is selected by the JIC Award Selection Committee. For Volume 20, 2014, the following article has been chosen to receive the award.

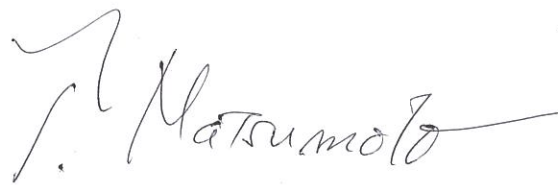

A multicenter, prospective evaluation of quality of care and mortality in Japan based on the Surviving Sepsis Campaign guidelines

*Seitaro Fujishima, Satoshi Gando, Daizoh Saitoh, Toshihiko Mayumi, Shigeki Kushimoto, Shin-ichiro Shiraishi, Hiroshi Ogura,
Kiyotsugu Takuma, Joji Kotani, Hiroto Ikeda, Norio Yamashita,
Koichiro Suzuki, Ryosuke Tsuruta, Naoshi Takeyama, Tsunetoshi
Araki, Yasushi Suzuki, Yasuo Miki, Yoshihiro Yamaguchi, Naoki Aikawa, Japanese Association for Acute Medicine Sepsis Registry (JAAM SR) Study Group.*

J Infect Chemother 2014; 20: 115-20

In recognition of their outstanding contribution, the authors are hereby presented this certificate of achievement for JIC Award 2014.

April 1, 2015

Tetsuya Matsumoto

Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Infection and Chemotherapy

Jun-ichi Kadota

President, Japanese Society of Chemotherapy

Satoshi Iwata

President, The Japanese Association for Infectious Diseases